Zühlke at a glance

Who are Zühlke?

Zühlke is a leading technology and consultancy company providing bespoke software solutions & product innovation. Over 40 years we have built an enviable track record and are now an internationally renowned solution provider with development centres in Bern, Frankfurt, Hannover, London, Munich and Zurich. Zühlke is a medium sized financially sound business employing around 300 staff and generating revenues in excess of CHF 62 Million in 2007.

What does Zühlke do?

Zühlke advises, develops and integrates to efficiently deliver solutions of the highest quality. Zühlke's interdisciplinary teams adopt a holistic approach to creating solutions using state-of-the-art processes, methods and technology. With over 4000 projects to our credit we know how to achieve outstanding results for our clients by applying a fresh and unique blend of innovative thinking, experience and engineering discipline. We produce innovative, robust and reliable solutions, on time, every time. Zühlke is an independent organisation free to select the technologies, partners and suppliers that best suit our client needs. Being an open learning based organisation we work closely with renowned industry experts, universities and research institutes. We are committed to ethical business and strive to operate with the utmost integrity with clients, employees, partners and shareholders alike.

Why Zühlke?

Zühlke enables its customers to successfully implement their ideas with processes, products and services that set new standards in reliability and performance.

Results-oriented approach

We use internationally accepted, proven methods to efficiently deliver projects and systematically execute the tasks in hand. Your benefit: accelerated innovation cycles and manufacturing processes, measurable cost-saving and quality improvements.

Outstanding achievement

Our employees work with a high degree of flexibility but remain keenly focused on their objectives. They possess the ability to think both analytically and strategically. They also appreciate the challenges of technical innovations and actively cultivate the interchange of ideas across disciplines. The success of our clients is their motivation to produce outstanding results.

Optimal solutions

We adopt a holistic approach and work closely with you from concept to implementation and final integration. Our teams have a wide range of experience in projects and sectors and are always keeping their knowledge up to date. Zühlke is a certified ISO 9001: 2000 and ISO 13485 company.
